Who Should Attend:
The activity is designed for physicians, dentists, physician extenders, registered nurses, and health care professionals in all specialties and with an interest in health disparities.

Objectives:
2. Understand the differences in individual healthcare needs of the poor and the rich.
3. Identify the causes of health care differences between rural and urban communities.
4. Understand the impact of access to care on health outcomes.
5. Gain insight into the role of good healthcare policies in eliminating disparities.

Format:
Live didactic lectures, panel discussions and faculty/audience question & answer sessions.

Sponsor Accreditation:
This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the essentials and policies of the accreditation council for continuing medical education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of Howard University College of Medicine, Office of Continuing Medical Education, and The Association of Nigerian Physicians in the Americas. The Office of Continuing Medical Education, Howard University College of Medicine is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credits For Physicians:
The Office of Continuing Medical Education designates this educational activity for a maximum of 10 1/2 AMA PRA Category I credits. Physicians should only claim credits commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Disclosure:
All speakers participating in CME activities jointly sponsored by the office of continuing education, Howard University College of Medicine are expected to disclose to the audience any real or apparent conflict(s) of interest related to the content of their presentation(s). Full disclosure of speaker relationships will be made before or during the activity as needed. Those expecting to discuss “off-label” drug usage must identify that portion of the presentation as being related to “off-label” use of drugs.

Disclaimer:

Welcome to the Association of Nigerian Physicians in the Americas 13th Annual Convention and Scientific Assembly!

This year’s theme “Healthcare Disparities” will help further the goals of the Association by fostering personal and professional growth of its members, encouraging the development of practical solutions to Nigerian health care problems, finding collaborative research opportunities in the international medical community and working to improve the health in America and abroad.

Thank you to the Association of Nigerian Physicians in the Americas for your dedication and hard work to make the Sunshine State a better place to live.

Best wishes on a successful assembly!

Sincerely,

Charlie Crist

WELCOME TO ORLANDO!

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Association of Nigerian Physicians in the Americas (ANPA), I bring you greetings and a resounding welcome to our 13th Annual Convention and Scientific Assembly.

The ANPA Program Committee as usual, has worked diligently to assemble a world class faculty of speakers. You will be impressed by the spectrum of topics that will be discussed..., spanning local health issues germane to all practitioners here in the United States, to issues of global health in general and with much specific reference to Nigeria. The representation on the faculty from both the Office of the United States Surgeon General and the United States Office of Minority Health, underscores the pertinence of our theme: Health Care Disparities. Our keynote speaker brings an introspective perspective on the Global burden of disease, and the resultant Health Inequities worldwide.

The ANPA Executive Committee continues to work hard at enhancing the value of our organization to both our current and potential members. To be successful at this, we invite your participation and your constructive input. Most importantly, we look forward to your objective engagement in the process of creating a successful organization in ANPA, of both local and international relevance.

We have had tremendous support from our sponsors that have come from both within the United States and from Nigeria. They continue to play an important role in the success of our conventions, as we develop and maintain strategic partnerships of mutual value with them. Please take the time to visit their exhibits.

Finally, remember to spend some time renewing and re-establishing old collegial acquaintances, while taking the ample opportunity provided here, to develop new personal and professional networks over the next few days. I wish you all an enjoyable stay at the Gaylord Palms Hotel, and a professionally rewarding experience at this year's convention.

Sincerely,

Yele Aluko, MD, FACC
President.
Chairman, Board of Directors
ANPA
The Program Committee will like to welcome our members, well-wishers and conference participants to our 13th Annual Convention and Scientific Assembly. As you will recall, 9 years ago, we had our 4th convention here in this same venue. At that time, we were in our infancy and our existence, as an organization, was not assured. Nine years later, two Executive Secretaries later, five treasurers later and five Presidents later, we have not only matured, we have actually arrived. Our Board has been very stable, with a number of seasoned colleagues and very enthusiastic young new comers. Those of us, who were fortunate to be at the winter retreat in Boston last November, saw clearly the direction that our new Executive want to take ANPA. ANPA has done many great things through the sweat and sacrifices of our generous membership and it is the intention of our Executive to polish and to make significant these contributions.

The impetus behind the production of our scientific program comes from such philosophy and policy by the Executive. In order words, the program becomes easy to conceptualize when it is driven by well-stated goals. We thank the President and his Executive for giving us an opportunity to translate their policies.

Our theme this year is “Health Care Disparities”. We will try to highlight the salient challenges of health care disparities through five very sound symposia, each of them packed with enormous expertise. It will be full of information about our individual and collective role in meeting those challenges. As in the past seven years, the Dan Nwankwo Memorial Endowed Lecture will be one of our main attractions and, this year, it will be given by a former Executive Governor from Nigeria, who is a physician. Our opening ceremony this year will also be very special in two other ways. We have selected a very outstanding physician to give our keynote address. In addition, we have a special lecture mandated by the Surgeon General of the USA. This is the kind of name recognition that ANPA has come to enjoy through the hard work of our leadership.

More than ever before, we have a unique opportunity to help spread the good news, called ANPA. We wish to thank our friends and colleagues from Nigeria, whose abiding confidence in what we are doing have been very helpful in keeping us focused. We wish you all an enjoyable annual convention.

Sincerely,
